FATAL "BLACK DAMP"

Five Miners at Scranton Meet a Horrible Death.

ALL DIED FROM SUFFOCATION.

Victims Found From One to Three Rods Apart - Heads Pointed Toward the Shaft, Indicating That They Were Fleeting in That Direction - One Body Still in the Mine.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 29.—Five men late yesterday afternoon met horrible deaths from "black damp," the after accumulation of a fire, in the Jermyn No. 1 mine near Rendham. The dead are:

ISAAC WATKINS, fire boss, 55 years old, wife and one child.

WILLIAM TOMPKINS, 22 years old, single.

JOSEPH SMITH, 35 years, wife and one child.

JOHN GALTAGHER, 42 years, wife and seven children.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, 36 years, wife. The bodies of all but Watkins were discovered later by a gang of men who went down in the mine with supplies for combating the fire. At an early hour this morning the remains of Watkins had not been found.

Since last Tuesday the fire had been raging in the mine. The men who lost their lives represented one "shift" and went on duty at 3 o'clock, and nobody knew of their death until the discovery of the lifeless bodies. Not a man in the party survived to tell the story.

In the case of each body the head pointed toward the shaft, indicating that they had groped and struggled toward the shaft and fresher air, while being suffocated. When the catastrophe was discovered, the excitement was intense. They were found from one to three rods apart.

On demand obligations of the government: Robert S. Taylor of Indiana, Stuyvesant Fish of New York, J. W. Fries of North Carolina, George E. Edmunds of Vermont.

On the banking system: Charles S. Fairchild of New York, T. G. Bush of Alabama, W. B. Dean of Minnesota, George E. Leighton of Missouri.

A recess was taken this evening until Oct. 11. In the meantime the committee will hold sessions for the purpose of considering in detail and arranging and systematizing the various suggestions which have been received.

LADIES COMPLIMENTED.

Kansas Judge Rules, However, That They Are Exempt From Jury Duty.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Sept. 29.—Miss M. E. Ross, Mrs. A. W. Douglass, Mrs. A. Kaufman and Mrs. Cora Wheeler, who were drawn on the district court jury and are the first women ever called for such service in Kansas, responded to the summons yesterday and all but Mrs. Wheeler expressed a willingness to serve.

The question of their eligibility was raised by Judge Biddle, who cited a Washington supreme court opinion to show that they were not competent, and Judge Simons found that under the constitution and supreme court decisions a qualified elector must be a male. He was unwilling that the women should serve in civil cases and paid them a nice compliment for their willingness to do so.

PITABLE CONDITION.

Negroes Who Left America For Liberia Are Destitute.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 29.—Ottley Waite and five children and G. W. Farmer and wife, all colored, who belong to a party of 315 emigrants, who left Savannah for Liberia by the steamer Labrador in March, 1896, have just arrived here from Liberia. The Farmers are destitute and the Waite family have only enough money to enable them to reach the United States. The adult members of the party described the condition of those whom they have left in Liberia as being most pitiable. They say the land promised them by the Liberian agents in the United States turned out to be absolutely no good. They assert that more than half the Labrador's party are dead and that the rest of them are trying to reach the United States.

BATTLE OF EXPERTS.

Medical and Chemical Men Giving Testimony in the Luettgen Trial.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The battle between the experts has begun, and from now on there will be denials thrown at the evidence of the medical and chemical wise men who testified for the state in the Luettgen case. The defense put its first witness in the expert line on the stand yesterday, and he will be followed by a long string of others. The witness was Dr. B. L. Reiso, who boiled two bodies in caustic potash in the vat in Luettgen's sausage factory and obtained results different from those who boiled bodies in caustic potash in behalf of the state.

Another witness of the day was Armadae Opdyke, a peddler, who testified that long after the murder is said to have been committed he saw Mrs. Luettgen in the neighborhood of Janesville, Wis. He said that there was no chance of his being mistaken and he identified the photograph of her which he was shown in court in the most positive manner.

Two girls were placed on the stand to impeach the testimony of Emma Schimpke, who said that she saw Luettgen and his wife enter the factory on the night on which the murder is said to have been committed.

Luettgen will probably go on the stand tomorrow.

HONORS ARE EVEN.

The decision provides that each faction shall have exclusive use of the church for purposes of worship in whatever manner they like for two weeks of each calendar month. The order is made perpetual. The decision is unique, and it comes as a surprise to everybody.

PUBLIC IS FRETFUL

New Orleans Merchants Anxious to Resume Business.

DR. OLLIPHANT TAKES A TRIP.

Situation at Edwards, Miss., Growing Worse - Quarantine Against Texas Cities - Fever Fright Has Struck Dallas in Earnest - Reports to Surgeon General Wyman.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—The yellow fever situation here continues exasperatingly the same. A daily average of 18 to 20 cases and two deaths has kept up. But while there is no sign of an epidemic visitation, the slow progress of the disease puts obstacles daily in the way of the fretful merchant public, who are anxious to again resume trade with the surrounding country. The record yesterday was not unlike that of many days in that it showed a death through a sheer neglect of the patient and of 21 cases up to date, having a fatal termination. The facts are incontrovertible that at least half died through neglect or lack of attention.

Business is showing feeble signs of revivification and the railroads are putting forth superhuman efforts to secure a modification of the quarantine regulations. Dr. Olliphant's trip up the road today at the invitation of the Southern Pacific company with a view to securing a modification of existing quarantines will settle one way or another whether or not trade is to stagnate for several weeks longer or whether it is partially to be resumed at once.

FEVER FRIGHT STRIKES DALLAS.

Trains Are Closely Watched and All Rumors to Be Run Down.

DALLAS, Sept. 29.—The yellow fever fright has struck the state in earnest. Nearly all towns in eastern, central and southern Texas have declared shotgun quarantine against Houston. In Brazos county County Health Officer Tabor has given out orders to the effect that every road entering the county will be closely guarded and every suspicious rumor run down. No passenger trains will stop in the county hereafter and there will for the present be no papers or other mails received. Practical jokes are warned against trying to scare the public.

Situation Worse at Edwards.

EDWARDS, Miss., Sept. 29.—Dr. Dunn of the state board of health last night announced that there had been one death during the day, that of W. T. Howie; new cases, 21; total cases of date, 197; serious cases, 6; the situation daily growing worse. Five out of the six mentioned as seriously ill have had repeated attacks of black vomit. The fever is fast moving down the white male population and at the present rate, a few immune nurses and doctors will soon have complete control of the town.

Reports to the Surgeon General.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—From Atlanta Surgeon General Wyman received a dispatch saying there were no suspicious cases on trains arriving there yesterday, nor are there any in the city.

At Ocean Springs Surgeon Murray reports one case and at Savannah five cases. Ten refugees were admitted at the Fontainebleau camp of denton and 28 persons were discharged.

At Biloxi there were 13 new cases and one death.

Case Being Guarded.

HOUSTON, Sept. 29.—The board of health issued no bulletin about the case of Eva Duncan, the negro woman whom the state health officer ordered guarded. The state health officer has not said it is yellow fever, has not even said it might in the course of time develop. He just wants it guarded and that is being done.

Stephenson, proprietor of the Stephenson Transfer company, was at the depot unloading a car of salt which was consigned to one of his customers. Small drove his team to the car and announced to his competitor that three of his customers had goods in the car and ordered Stephenson to drive out of his way. Stephenson replied in an emphatic manner and both men became angry and began fighting. Small ran at Stephenson with an open knife and as he did so the latter dealt him a blow over the head with a coal shovel, the edge of which broke the skull and penetrated the brain.

THE STREET FAIR.

EVERYBODY PLEASED WITH THE BIG SHOW.

Great Crowds Visited the Booths and Witnessed the Open Air Entertainments Last Night.

RAILROAD MEN'S DAY.

EARLY TRAINS ARE ALL WELL FILLED.

Big Parade This Afternoon—Open Air Performances the Greatest Attraction of All.

The interest in the big fair increases. The third day opened very satisfactorily to every body. The trains brought more than on the preceding days. The attendance from the surrounding country is much larger today, but nothing to what it will be tomorrow and Friday.

Visitors are all delighted with what they see at the booths and on the platforms. The management is looking carefully after everything and everybody. Nothing is half way done by the committees, which have the full indorsement of the business men and people generally.

The open air exhibitions and entertainments last evening were all witnessed by hundreds and hundreds of people.

These excellent performances will continue every afternoon and evening during the week.

This is railroad men's day. All departments of the service are well represented. Headquarters for the railroad men is at Frank H. Gates', whose place of business has been thronged all day with visiting railroaders. The parade from Hustle's hall at 1:30 this afternoon was very creditable indeed, nearly 150 "knights of the rail" being in line.

Prizes were awarded to the oldest railroad men in point of service as follows:

Isaac Apgar, engineer, service 39 years.
 James Waterhouse, conductor, service 45 years.
 J. C. Bush, section man, service, 26 years.
 C. E. Miles, telegrapher, service 32 years.

William Leach, brakeman.
 Chas. King, fireman.
 Dan'l McGinty, section foreman.

Tomorrow is "Secret Society Day" and the indications are that it will be the biggest day of the week. Preparations have been made to take care of all the visiting brethren in a real fraternal style.

BICYCLE RACES.

John P. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is no paper in the United States that has done more for the people than the Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John P. McLean. The old-time prices for the Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: "The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to with a cheaper journal cannot afford."

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as in those of greater magnitude.

COURSING LIZARDS.

The Amusement of a Tame Eagle in the Arizona Desert.

In St. Nicholas Wolcott Le Clear Beard writes of "Moses, a Tame Eagle," which was one of his pets while he was engaged in engineering in southern Arizona. Mr. Beard says he was very fond of the lizards with which these plains abounded, and one large variety, called swifts, from their remarkable speed in running, seemed to be especially coveted.

Whenever one of these was caught, which was not often, Moses would be brought out, and, after the swift had been taken a few feet, would be set free. The lizard would promptly resolve itself into a white streak across the desert, and, screaming with excitement, half running, half flying, Moses would pursue, followed by the laughing crowd, of which only those on horseback had much chance of keeping up. It was in no sense a cruel sport. It amused Moses and us didn't hurt the swift, for he got away every time, and if the feelings of our pet were a trifle injured as he returned, perched on some one's wrist or saddle horn, from his fruitless hunt these were speedily soothed by the prompt gift of a nice bit of fresh beef, so no one was the worse. The lizards, however, he seemed to view as a sort of desert, and as he could absorb an unlimited quantity they were always in demand.

A certain stick kept on the veranda of our office was generally under his eye, and when any one picked this up and started for a walk across the desert Moses would hop gravely along behind, sure that some of his favorite dainties would soon be forthcoming.

Of course Moses was perfectly well able to catch the smaller kinds of lizards for himself, but there was less exertion in allowing some one else to do it for him, and exertion at this period of his life was a thing to which Moses was violently opposed. These occasions were almost the only ones when he would be silent for any length of time, for he seemed to understand perfectly that at the first note of his voice ever lizard within hearing would run for its life to the nearest refuge, and only when a blow of the stick was raised for the second or third time to reach its mark would he give utterance to his deep disgust at such clumsiness.

FISH AS FOOD.

The Dark is Better Than the White For an Active Person.

Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in The Ladies' Home Journal, contends that there has not been a sufficiently accurate analysis upon which to base any table regarding the chemical composition of fish at all reliable. "The albuminoid matter in white fish, as cod, halibut and halibut, is in about the same proportion as in beef and mutton. They contain, however, more phosphorus—the active fish, such as trout and pickerel, containing a still greater amount, due no doubt to their activity. The amount of carbon depends largely upon the amount of fat they contain. The whitefish are, therefore, deficient in carbon. If you should ask an intelligent cook what vegetable to serve with a boiled white fish she would answer quickly, potatoes, as they supply the wanting carbohydrates.

"There are other kinds of fish, however, such as salmon, catfish and sturgeon, that are quite well supplied with carbohydrates, in excess of which they are not so easily digested as the white fish. The more oil they have dispersed through the body, the more difficult the digestion. In the white fish the fat is held in the liver; in the dark fish it is dispersed through the entire flesh. From this fact we learn that dark fish make a much better diet for the active man. Many authorities affirm that the more active fish, as well as the more active animals, give better muscle making food than their more indolent relations."

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble or some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours, asediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need any medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention the Republican and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. A Small Boy's Good Memory.

One of the dentists of this city has a precocious child of about 4 summers. The bright little fellow keeps his father and mother wide awake during the whole day by his wit and keenness. When the child was about 2 years of age, his parents visited Niagara falls. Baby went along. The other day a friend of the family was at the house, and she spoke of Niagara. The 4-year-old quickly spoke up that he had been there. His mother told him that he certainly could not remember it, but the child said that he could. His mother asking him what it looked like, Johnnie replied, "It looks like a great big ocean going awfully fast."—Albany Journal.

ADOBE BUILDINGS.

SIMPLE ARCHITECTURE OF MUD HOUSES IN NEW MEXICO.

How the Bricks Are Made—They Have Straw In Them and Are Sun Dried. Dwellings Made In This Way Are Very Durable—A Favorable Climate.

Architectural engineering is a branch of the gentle art of making mud pies in the land where the adobe houses grow. In the land of sunshine, where a rainy day is so rare that it is marked with a red cross, the native contractor and builder wastes no time figuring on the strength of material, the crushing limit of tubular columns and the wind pressure per square foot of elevation. He does not pore over blue prints of plans, cross sections and elevations, nor does he whittle down his figures to the finest point so as to come under some other contractor's bid. He simply rolls his trousers up above his knees, digs down in a favored ditch or pond until he strikes the "dobe mud," and in a short time he is ready to begin constructive operations.

Adobe houses are brick houses, but the brick is sun dried and made with straw. The clay or mud of which the brick is made is a natural cement peculiar to the arid plains of New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada and that belt of states and territories. It is turned out in the most primitive manner, and the Blue Island brickmaker who might happen upon a half breed or Mexican "dobe" brickmaker would view the operation with amusement or disgust. Kiln burned brick, made of blue clay, however, would not meet the requirements imposed by the climatic conditions of those countries where adobe brick is used.

In summer an adobe house is cool; in winter it is warm. Its thick walls absorb the occasional rain, and, although the sun dried brick is soft compared to the kiln dried article, it does not crumble, and it stands for ages.

A man who recently traveled through New Mexico was much interested in the "dobe" houses. For weeks he inquired and searched for a "dobe" house in the hands of the builders. At length in Santa Fe he stumbled upon a couple of men stamping with their bare feet upon clay in a wooden frame. He inquired and found that he was looking upon two Mexicans making adobe brick. In describing the process he said:

"The men actually dug up the 'dobe' mud from the bottom of the ditch which skirted the road. They mixed it, or, as we say, 'tempered' it with water until it was of a stiff, clayey consistency. Then they chopped alfalfa hay into short pieces and mixed it with the clay, and their material was ready to make into brick. A wood frame lay on the ground. This frame was filled with the 'dobe' mud mixed with hay, and one of the men got into the frame and stamped the mud down with his bare feet, at the same time tamping it with a stick. After the frame was packed hard he scraped the surplus mud off with a stick, so that the top surface was level with the upper edges of the frame, and then lifting the frame from the clay he carried the brick to one side of the road and stood it on its edge. The next brick he made he leaned against the first one, and soon he had a dozen large bricks—each twice as wide and long and thick as an ordinary brick—drying in the sun. One of the men told me that the bricks would be ready to lay in three or four days, and that they used the mud which the bricks are made of for the plaster."

"The walls of an adobe house are very thick, sometimes two or three feet, and in the ordinary one story adobe house, which is characteristic of that region, they are built up perfectly plain until they reach the roof. The roof is supported on wooden beams, laid edgewise on the walls, and the bricks are built up level with the top of the beams between the timbers, leaving the edge of the rafters exposed. The roof has a slight slant, and is made of adobe bricks. When it rains, the water soaks into the roof bricks, but does not leak to drip down into the rooms below until the rain is over. Then the family moves out until the water is through with its dripping. I saw an adobe house in Santa Fe which was built in the sixteenth century, and so far as I could see, the walls were as strong and good as any house around there."

"Walls are built of stone, plastered with adobe cement, if I may so call it, and much walls are strong and solid. I suppose if that country had half as much rain as falls in Chicago the 'dobe' houses would after a time crumble away, but the average year in New Mexico is made up of 187 days of unclouded sky, 139 days when sunshine predominates and only 89 days of cloud, so that the rainfall does not amount to much more than a good sized fall of dew."

It is estimated that an adobe house costs about $100 a room, but there are mansions built of this material which cost not less than $30,000 to construct. When the "Americans" settled in New Mexico, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and the lower part of California they accepted the time-worn condition of the country and built their houses of "dobe mud."—Chicago Record.

Kentucky's Names.

Kentucky is known as the Corn Cracker State, from a game bird enjoying the same name which was formerly found in great abundance in most parts of the state. It is also called the Blue Grass State, from the belt of land running through the center in which this variety of grass grows to great perfection. In the early days of our history it was known as the Dark and Bloody Ground, being so termed by the Indians. It was then a debatable land between the Indians living north of the Ohio and those living in the mountains of Tennessee and Georgia, a sort of battleground for those tribes, which fact gave it the name long before it was settled by the whites.

FATAL "BLACK DAMP"

Five Miners at Scranton Meet a Horrible Death.

ALL DIED FROM SUFFOCATION.

Victims Found From One to Three Rods Apart—Heads Pointed Toward the Shaft, Indicating That They Were Fleeing in That Direction—One Body Still in the Mine.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 29.—Five men late yesterday afternoon met horrible deaths from "black damp," the after accumulation of a fire, in the Jernyn No. 1 mine near Rendham. The dead are:

ISAAC WATKINS, fire boss, 55 years old, wife and one child.

JOSEPH SMITH, 35 years, wife and one child.

JOHN GALTAGER, 43 years, wife and seven children.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, 36 years, wife.

The bodies of all but Watkins were discovered later by a gang of men who went down in the mine with supplies for combating the fire. At an early hour this morning the remains of Watkins had not been found.

Since last Tuesday the fire had been raging in the mine. The men who lost their lives represented one "shift" and went on duty at 3 o'clock, and nobody knew of their death until the discovery of the lifeless bodies. Not a man in the party survived to tell the story.

In the case of each body the head pointed toward the shaft, indicating that they had groped and struggled toward the shaft and fresher air, while being suffocated. When the catastrophe was discovered word was passed to the surface and the excitement was intense. They were found from one to three rods apart.

MONEY MARKET.

Programme for Work Being Laid Out.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The members of the monetary commission are holding daily sessions at the Arlington hotel laying out the programme for the work that is before them. Their discussions are informal, and at last night's session the president announced the committees as follows:

On metallic currency: C. Stuart Patterson of Pennsylvania, Louis A. Garnett of California, J. Laurence Laughlin of Illinois.

On demand obligations of the government: Robert S. Taylor of Indiana, Stuyvesant Fish of New York, J. W. Fries of North Carolina, George F. Edmunds of Vermont.

On the banking system: Charles S. Fairchild of New York, T. G. Bush of Alabama, W. B. Dean of Minnesota, George E. Leighton of Missouri.

A recess was taken this evening until Oct. 11. In the meantime the committees will hold sessions for the purpose of considering in detail and arranging and systematizing the various suggestions which have been received.

LADIES COMPLIMENTED.

Kansas Judge Rules, However, That They Are Exempt From Jury Duty.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Sept. 29.—Miss M. E. Ross, Mrs. A. W. Douglas, Mrs. A. Kaufman and Mrs. C. W. Wheeler, who were drawn on the district court jury and are the first women ever called for such service in Kansas, responded to the summons yesterday and all but Mrs. Wheeler expressed a willingness to serve.

The question of their eligibility was raised by Judge Biddle, who cited a Washington supreme court opinion to show that they were not competent, and Judge Simons found that under the constitution and supreme court decisions a qualified elector must be a male. He was unwilling that the women should serve in civil cases and paid them a nice compliment for their willingness to do so.

PITIFUL CONDITION.

Negroes Who Left America For Liberia Are Destitute.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 29.—Otley Waite and five children and G. W. Farmer and wife, all colored, who belong to a party of 315 emigrants, who left Savannah for Liberia by the steamer Labrador in March, 1896, have just arrived here from Liberia. The Farmers are destitute and the Waites have only enough money to enable them to reach the United States. The adult members of the party described the condition of those whom they have left in Liberia as being most pitiful. They say the land promised them by the Liberian agents in the United States turned out to be absolutely no good. They assert that more than half the Labrador's party are dead and that the rest of them are trying to reach the United States.

Star Pointer's Fast Quarter.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 29.—Star Pointer paced in 2:00 1/2 in his trial against 1:59 1/2 on the Terre Haute track yesterday. He started slow and made the quarter in 31 1/2; the half in 1:01 1/2, and the last half in 58 1/2 seconds. The third quarter in 28 seconds is the fastest on record.

Apple-picking In Full Blast.

ODIN, Ill., Sept. 29.—Apple-picking is in full blast in this county and prices are slowly going up, though many think the top prices have been reached. The Trecoast evaporator has opened up with nearly 100 hands, giving the farmers a home market for all kinds of fall fruit.

Refuse to Go to Work.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Sept. 29.—The miners in Middlesboro mining district still refuse to go to work at the old wages and the prospects for an early settlement between the operators and miners is not flattering.

Announcement Caused Surprise.

MAYFIELD, Ky., Sept. 29.—Quite a surprise was created when a postoffice inspector removed the postmaster here on an alleged charge of $500 shortage.

BATTLE OF EXPERTS.

Medical and Chemical Men Giving Testimony in the Luetgert Trial.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The battle between the experts has begun, and from now on there will be denials thrown at the evidence of the medical and chemical wise men who testified for the state in the Luetgert case. The defense put its first witness in the expert line on the stand yesterday, and he will be followed by a long string of others. The witness was Dr. B. L. Reiss, who boiled two bodies in caustic potash in the vat in Luetgert's sausage factory and obtained results different from those who boiled bodies in caustic potash in behalf of the state.

Another witness of the day was Armadale Opyke, a peddler, who testified that long after the murder is said to have been committed he saw Mrs. Luetgert in the neighborhood of Jansville, Wis. He said that there was no chance of his being mistaken and he identified the photograph of her which he was shown in court in the most positive manner.

Two girls were placed on the stand to impeach the testimony of Emma Schimpke, who said that she saw Luetgert and his wife enter the factory on the night on which the murder is said to have been committed.

Luetgert will probably go on the stand tomorrow.

HONORS ARE EVEN.

Two Factions in a Church Divide the Time For Worship.

SALEM, Ind., Sept. 29.—Judge Voyles has rendered his decision in the Mount Tabor church case, in which two factions of the church organization were seeking possession of the church property. The decision provides that each faction shall have exclusive use of the church for purposes of worship in whatever manner they like for two weeks of each calendar month. The order is made perpetual. The decision is unique, and it comes as a surprise to everybody.

Steel Works Being Torn Down.

HAMMOND, Ind., Sept. 29.—It is officially announced that the Illinois Steel company will not resume operations at its local plant, which was leased from the Corning Steel company of Peoria, Ill. The company has a large force of workmen tearing down its galvanizing department, which was erected two years ago at a cost of $50,000, and will move to South Chicago or Milwaukee.

Bond Raised For Hansen.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Sept. 29.—The relatives of Theodore Hansen, who was arrested with Henrick Brown and taken to Indianapolis on charge of making and passing counterfeit money, have made arrangements to give bonds for his release.

Effort to Save a Homestead.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29.—Katherine Chase, daughter of the late Salmon P. Chase, is here. She will remain in Ohio several days in an effort to secure the remaining $5,000 necessary to save the Chase homestead. Edgewater at Washington, D. C. About $75,000 has been secured already, the payment of which was conditional upon raising the $80,000 needed to redeem the property.

Died Under an Operation.

FRANKLIN, O., Sept. 29.—Charles Taylor, a boilermaker, of Dayton, while working at the Harding paper mills, had the first joint of his thumb mashed and while undergoing the amputation of that member, died under the influence of chloroform.

General Tracey For Mayor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—General Benjamin F. Tracey, former secretary of the navy, was last night nominated by the convention of the regular Republican organization for mayor of Greater New York.

Miners Resume Work.

SORRENTO, Ill., Sept. 29.—The miners here have returned to work after having been idle for two months and a half. They receive the full scale as adopted at Springfield.

A sickly, fretful baby is a distressful burden to both of the parents.

After passing worried and sleepless nights the father is unfitted for business and the mother for her household duties. If a woman will take proper care of herself during the period preceding motherhood, and see to it that she and her baby are kept strong and healthy, her children will be robust and good-natured.

The best medicine for keeping these delicate and important organs in a healthy condition is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Thousands of women have testified to the marvelous action of this remedy. More of it is sold than of all other medicines for the same purpose combined. It acts directly upon the organs involved. It restores their health and vigor. It prepares a woman for the duties of motherhood. It insures the health of baby. It makes its advent easy and almost free from pain. Women who use it do not experience the usual discomforts of the period of gestation. It is the most marvelous medicine ever known for wives and mothers. It is the preparation of an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, who has been for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Women who wish to know more about it should write him.

"About six years ago my wife became afflicted with female weakness," writes the Rev. J. J. Coppedge of Elmo, Kaufman County, Texas. "She could not stand on her feet or get in any position in which she did not suffer great pain. She was naturally a strong woman. I had several physicians to treat her without any permanent relief. She despaired of ever again being well. She saw an advertisement of your 'Favorite Prescription' and spoke to me about it. I got her a bottle of the medicine which she soon found was helping her. Since taking the last she has not suffered a moment with the old trouble. She has been well nearly twelve months. The 'Favorite Prescription' was all the medicine she took. She is in good health and we are happy."

German Papers Mistaken.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—The statement published in the German newspapers that the United States ambassador, Andrew D. White, has been instructed to negotiate a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Germany is pronounced to be absolutely without foundation, in fact.

PUBLIC IS FRETFUL.

New Orleans Merchants Anxious to Resume Business.

DR. OLLIPHANT TAKES A TRIP.

Situation at Edwards, Miss., Growing Worse—Quarantine Against Texas Cities—Fever Fright Has Struck Dallas in Earnest—Reports to Surgeon General Wyman.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—The yellow fever situation here continues exasperatingly the same. A daily average of 18 to 20 cases and two deaths has kept up. But while there is no sign of an epidemic visitation, the slow progress of the disease puts obstacles daily in the way of the fretful merchant public, who are anxious to again resume trade with the surrounding country. The record yesterday was not unlike that of many days in that it showed a death through a sheer neglect of the patient and of 21 cases up to date having a fatal termination. The facts are incontrovertible that at least half died through neglect or lack of attention.

Business is showing feeble signs of revelation and the railroads are putting forth superhuman efforts to secure a modification of the quarantine regulations. Dr. Olliphant's trip up the road today at the invitation of the Southern Pacific company with a view to securing a modification of existing quarantines is one way or another whether or not trade is to stagnate for several weeks longer or whether it is partially to be resumed at once.

FEVER FRIGHT STRIKES DALLAS.

Trains Are Closely Watched and All Rumors to Be Run Down.

DALLAS, Sept. 29.—The yellow fever fright has struck the state in earnest. Nearly all towns in eastern, central and southern Texas have declared shotgun quarantine against Houston. In Brazos county County Health Officer Tabor has given out orders to the effect that every road entering the county will be closely guarded and every suspicious rumor run down. No passenger trains will stop in the county hereafter and there will for the present be no papers or other mails received. Practical jokes are warned against trying to scare the public.

Situation Worse at Edwards.

EDWARDS, Miss., Sept. 29.—Dr. Dunn of the state board of health last night announced that there had been one death during the day, that of W. T. Howie; new cases, 21; total cases to date, 197; serious cases, 6; the situation daily growing worse. Five out of the six mentioned as seriously ill have had repeated attacks of black vomit. The fever is fast moving down the white male population and at the present rate, a few immune nurses and doctors will soon have complete control of the town.

Reports to the Surgeon General.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—From Atlanta Surgeon General Wyman received a dispatch saying there were no suspicious cases on trains arriving there yesterday, nor are there any in the city.

At Ocean Springs Surgeon Murray reports one case and at Scranton five cases. Ten refugees were admitted at the Fontainebleau camp of detention and 28 persons were discharged.

At Biloxi there were 13 new cases and one death.

Case Being Guarded.

HOUSTON, Sept. 29.—The board of health issued no bulletin about the case of Eva Duncan, the negro woman whom the state health officer ordered guarded. The state health officer has not said it is yellow fever, has not even said it might in the course of time develop. He just wants it guarded and that is being done.

Quarantine Against Texas Cities.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 29.—The county authorities yesterday quarantined against Houston and Victoria on account of suspicious cases of sickness, supposed to be yellow fever, in those cities. The quarantine applies to railroads and mail as well as to persons and no train that has been in either Houston or Victoria will be allowed to enter this county.

Ten New Cases at Mobile.

MOBILE, Sept. 29.—The report of the board of health yesterday showed the effect of the excessive hot weather of the past six days upon the populace. The number of cases recorded for the past 24 hours was 10, all of the patients having been taken ill from the 23rd to the 26th.

THE STREET FAIR.

EVERYBODY PLEASED WITH THE BIG SHOW.

Great Crowds Visited the Booths and Witnessed the Open Air Entertainments
Last Night.

RAILROAD MEN'S DAY.

EARLY TRAINS ARE ALL WELL FILLED.

Big Parade This Afternoon—Open Air
Performances the Greatest Attraction of All.

The interest in the big fair increases.
The third day opened very satisfactorily to every body. The trains brought more than on the preceding days. The attendance from the surrounding country is much larger today, but nothing to what it will be tomorrow and Friday.

Visitors are all delighted with what they see at the booths and on the platforms. The management is looking carefully after everything and everybody. Nothing is half way done by the committees, which have the full endorsement of the business men and people generally.

The open air exhibitions and entertainments last evening were all witnessed by hundreds and hundreds of people.

These excellent performances will continue every afternoon and evening during the week.

This is railroad men's day. All departments of the service are well represented. Headquarters for the railroad men is at Frank H. Gates', whose place of business has been thronged all day with visiting railroaders. The parade from Hustler's hall at 1:30 this afternoon was very creditable indeed, nearly 150 "knights of the rail" being in line.

Prizes were awarded to the oldest railroad men in point of service as follows:

Isaac Apgar, engineer, service 39
years.
James Waterhouse, conductor, service
45 years.
J. C. Bush, section man, service, 26
years.
C. E. Miles, telegrapher, service 32
years.
William Leach, brakeman.
Chas. King, fireman.
Dan'l McGinty, section foreman.

Tomorrow is "Secret Society Day" and the indications are that it will be the biggest day of the week. Preparations have been made to take care of all the visiting brethren in a real fraternal style.

BICYCLE RACES.

citing. In fact these races today and

NOTES.
Premiums will be awarded on all exhibits Friday.

The merry-go-round is doing a prosperous business.

There have been 190 men sworn in as special police so that good order is assured.

The serpentine dance of Miss Grace
Emerson is one of the most interesting performances here.

The Freetown Band has been furnishing their full share of the music today.
The boys all play well.

The young ladies' lantern drill under the direction of Mr. Frank R. Hale will probably take place Friday night.

Loretta's Gypsy camp in front of the New Lynn is being well patronized.
The young ladies there need only to trace the lines in the palm of your hand to tell you both your past and future.
Visit the camp and have your fortune told.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more regular newspaper in the United States than the Chicago Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean. The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons; it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, with a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as in those of greater magnitude.

COURSING LIZARDS.

The Amusement of a Tame Eagle in the Arizona Desert.

In St. Nicholas Wolcott Le Clear Beard writes of "Moses, a Tame Eagle," which was one of his pets while he was engaged in engineering in southern Arizona. Mr. Beard says he was very fond of the lizards with which these plains abounded, and one large variety, called swifts, from their remarkable speed in running, seemed to be especially coveted.

Whenever one of these was caught, which was not often, Moses would be brought out, and, after the swift had taken a ten foot start, would be set free. The lizard would promptly resolve itself into a white streak across the desert, and, screaming with excitement, half running, half flying, Moses would pursue, followed by the laughing crowd, of which only those on horseback had much chance of keeping up. It was in no sense a cruel sport. It amused Moses and us and didn't hurt the swift, for he got away every time, and if the feelings of our pet were a trifle injured as he returned, perched on some one's wrist or saddle horn, from his fruitless hunt these were speedily soothed by the prompt gift of a nice bit of fresh beef, so no one was the worse. The lizards, however, he seemed to view as a sort of dessert, and as he could absorb an unlimited quantity they were always in demand.

A certain stick kept on the veranda of our office was generally under his eye, and when any one picked this up and started for a walk across the desert Moses would hop gravely along behind, sure that some of his favorite dainties would soon be forthcoming.

Of course Moses was perfectly well able to catch the smaller kinds of lizards for himself, but there was less exertion in allowing some one else to do it for him, and exertion at this period of his life was a thing to which Moses was violently opposed. These occasions were almost the only ones when he would be silent for any length of time, for he seemed to understand perfectly that at the first note of his voice ever heard within hearing would run for his life to the nearest refuge, and only when a blow of the stick followed for the second or third time to reach his mark would he give utterance to his deep disgust at such chummers.

FISH AS FOOD.

The Dark Is Better Than the White For an Active Person.

Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in The Ladies' Home Journal, contends that there has not been a sufficiently accurate analysis upon which to base any table regarding the chemical composition of fish at all reliable. "The aluminoid matter in white fish, as cod, haddock and halibut, is in about the same proportion as in beef and mutton. They contain, however, more phosphorus—the active fish, such as trout and pickerel, containing a still greater amount, due no doubt to their activity. The amount of carbon depends largely upon the amount of fat they contain. The whitefish are, therefore, deficient in carbon. If you should ask an intelligent cook what vegetable to serve with a tilled white fish she would answer quickly, potatoes, as they supply the want of carbohydrates.

"There are other kinds of fish, however, such as salmon, catfish and sturgeon, that are quite well supplied with carbohydrates in consequence of which they are not so easily digested as the white fish. The more oil they have dispersed through the body, the more difficult the digestion. In the white fish the fat is held in the liver; in the dark fish it is dispersed through the entire flesh. From this fact we learn that dark fish make a much better diet for the active man. Many authorities affirm that the more active fish, as well as the more active animals, give better muscle making food than their more indolent relations."

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need any medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention the REPUBLICAN and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

A Small Boy's Good Memory.

One of the dentists of this city has a precocious child of about 4 summers. The bright little fellow keeps his father and mother wide awake during the whole day by his wit and keenness. When the child was about 2 years of age, his parents visited Niagara falls. Baby went along. The other day a friend of the family was at the house, and she spoke of Niagara. The 4-year-old quickly spoke up that he had been there. His mother told him that he certainly could not remember it, but the child said that he could. His mother asking him what it looked like, Johnnie replied, "It looks like a great big ocean going awful fast."—Albany Journal.

Kentucky's Names.

Kentucky is known as the Corn Cracker State, from a game bird enjoying the same name which was formerly found in great abundance in most parts of the state. It is also called the Blue Grass State, from the belt of land running through the center in which this variety of grass grows to great perfection. In the early days of our history it was known as the Dark and Bloody Ground, being so termed by the Indians. It was then a debatable land between the Indians living north of the Ohio and those living in the mountains of Tennessee and Georgia, a sort of battleground for these tribes, which fact gave it the name long before it was settled by the whites.

ADOBE BUILDINGS.

SIMPLE ARCHITECTURE OF MUD HOUSES IN NEW MEXICO.

How the Bricks Are Made—They Have Straw In Them and Are Sun Dried. Dwellings Made In This Way Are Very Durable—A Favorable Climate.

Architectural engineering is a branch of the gentle art of making mud pies in the land where the adobe houses grow. In the land of sunshine, where a rainy day is so rare that it is marked with a red cross, the native contractor and builder wastes no time figuring on the strength of material, the crushing limit of tubular columns and the wind pressure per square foot of elevation. He does not pore over blue prints of plans, cross sections and elevations, nor does he whittle down his figures to the finest point so as to come under some other contractor's bid. He simply rolls his trousers up above his knees, digs down in a favored ditch or pond until he strikes the "dobe mud," and in a short time he is ready to begin constructive operations.

Adobe houses are brick houses, but the brick is sun dried and made with straw. The clay or mud of which the brick is made is a natural cement peculiar to the arid plains of New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada and that belt of states and territories. It is turned out in the most primitive manner, and the Blue Island brickmaker who might happen upon a half breed or Mexican "dobe" brickmaker would view the operation with amusement or disgust. Kiln burned brick, made of blue clay, however, would not meet the requirements imposed by the climatic conditions of those countries where adobe brick is used.

In summer an adobe house is cool; in winter it is warm. Its thick walls absorb the occasional rain, and, although the sun dried brick is soft compared to the kiln dried article, it does not crumble, and it stands for ages.

A man who recently traveled through New Mexico was much interested in the "dobe" houses. For weeks he inquired and searched for a "dobe" house in the hands of the builders. At length in Santa Fe he stumbled upon a couple of men stamping with their bare feet upon clay in a wooden frame. He inquired and found that he was looking upon two Mexicans making adobe brick. In describing the process he said:

"The men actually dug up the 'dobe' mud from the bottom of the ditch which skirted the road. They mixed it, or, as we say, 'tempered' it with water until it was of a stiff, clayey consistency. Then they chopped alfalfa hay into short pieces and mixed it with the clay, and their material was ready to make into brick. A wood frame lay on the ground. This frame was filled with the 'dobe' mud mixed with hay, and one of the men got into the frame and stamped the mud down with his bare feet, at the same time tamping it with a stick. After the frame was packed hard he scraped the surplus mud off with a stick, so that the top surface was level with the upper edges of the frame, and then lifting the frame from the clay he carried the brick to one side of the road and stood it on its edge. The next brick he made he leaned against the first one, and soon he had a dozen large bricks—each twice as wide and long and thick as an ordinary brick—lying in the sun. One of the men told me that the bricks would be ready to lay in three or four days, and that they used the mud which the bricks are made of for the plaster."

"The walls of an adobe house are very thick, sometimes two or three feet, and in the ordinary one story adobe house, which is characteristic of that region, they are built up perfectly plain until they reach the roof. The roof is supported on wooden beams, laid edgewise on the walls, leaving the edge of the rafters exposed. The roof has a slight slant, and is made of adobe bricks. When it rains, the water soaks into the roof bricks, but does not begin to drip down into the rooms below until the rain is over. Then the family moves out until the water is through with its dripping. I saw an adobe house in Santa Fe which was built in the sixteenth century, and, so far as I could see, the walls were as strong and good as any house around there.

"Walls are built of stone, plastered with adobe cement, if I may so call it, and such walls are strong and solid. I suppose if that country had half as much rain as falls in Chicago the 'dobe' houses would after a time crumble away, but the average year in New Mexico is made up of 187 days of unclouded sky, 139 days when sunshine predominates and only 39 days of cloud, so that the rainfall does not amount to much more than a good sized fall of dew."

It is estimated that an adobe house costs about $100 a room, but there are mansions built of this material which cost not less than $30,000 to construct. When the "Americans" settled in New Mexico, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and the lower part of California they accepted the time-worn condition of the country and built their houses of 'dobe mud.'—Chicago Record.
